ABSTRACT:

This article highlights how much corruption is a social phenomenon for the society, the dangers of unheard of each state, and the moral threat of evil.

KEYWORDS: Corruption, NBT, society, people, nature, benefits, initiative, centralized.

INTRODUCTION:

As a society develops, there must be a clear rule of law and people need to be guided by the same rules. In a certain way, yachting is the primary right of ending, and the rights and obligations of the ombudsman are also guaranteed.

Nature is a compound inventory that is considered to be the product of human and society's ounces. Human beings are naturally influenced by the air, the canal, the food, the various minerals, the raw materials and the needs of the living.

It is known that the human being can be adjusted to serve the same interests. Such reconciliations are not the end of the boundless benefits of the human being. This time, it is possible to form a relatively cruel relationship to nature. As a result, the laws of nature and man are violated by the law of relationship. Violations of these laws can lead to environmental degradation from time to time.

Corruption is one of the world's topical problems not only in the Republic but also in the global community. That is why we need to make the most of our major task of promoting practical, theoretical and scientific research in the field of corruption, with the efforts of countries in the global environment to fight corruption.

Corruption can be distinguished by the fact that bribery and abuse are the usual forms of abuse and corruption.

- Officials, civil servants, deputies directly participate in business for personal or corporate benefit;
- Use of services for transferring to commercial structures the state with the purpose of money laundering;
- Granting privileges to the corporate (political, religious, national, etc.) groups as state resources;
- The use of self-service for the purpose of harassing private or corporate media outlets;
- Use of business by officials and the officials of the state for business purposes for the purpose of personal gain;
- Use of services for manipulation of information for personal or corporate gain (misconduct, disobedience, elapsing, etc.);
- Inquiring decisions about the adoption of regulatory documents in a narrow group of interests;
- Providing state financial and material resources to certain candidates' election funds.

Other sources are classified according to the basics of corruption:

Invisible cavity blinds. Trade and economy, economic sectors - economic. Political - state-owned, politically-motivated (electorate - elected or elected organizers; parliament, party-business, and political parties, and parliamentarians) to protect interests and ecology.

The status of the entities - the state (bureaucratic, the leaders of the state power, the subordinate civil servants), the economic (corporate managers, businessmen) and the political (political champions).

Those who demand bribes for initiating corruption relations, as well as officials and government officials who have paid bribes.

Decentralization of corruption relations is decentralized (every bribe is driven by its own initiative), centralized corruption is a “downward slope” (the habit of bribing public servants). A piece of luggage being handed over to officials).

The characteristic of silicon is legal and illegal.

The level of corruption in the relationship is low (the rule of law and the center of the circle is divided), the top (with the position of senior officials and politicians), and the people.

The constant degree of corruption links - episodes, institutionalism and kleptocracy (as an almost indispensable part of the corruption-related relationship).

The vision of corruption relations is the vertical (the boss), the eighth (the structure of the person and the person).

Kilmingning's blindfold - bribing, sharing services, guides, friendships, kinship, and so on.

The relationship of the community is arrow, arrow and shield (A. Heidenheimer). The first is the operation of the blacksmith who was not charged. They are essentially blurred into the culture and are not perceived as a problem. Everybody in the dark, even in the face of corruption, is blamed for bruising. Corrupt Corruption - There are no operatives without consent, and there are rumors around the same people.

The introduction of a corruption bargain is characteristic of both compulsory and voluntary.

In general, the upsurge of legal culture is not only a commitment to the rule of law, it is also a guarantee of the country's independence and future prosperity.
