In this article, the rights of people living in our society. and measures to increase legal literacy are highlighted.

Keywords: Constitution, Decision, law, order, strategy, Supreme Assembly, law.

Attention to human and rights freedoms should be at the highest level. Because in order for a person to be able to feel independent and happy, first of all, his rights and freedoms must be ensured. As our first president of the Republic of Uzbekistan insisted: "human rights and democracy are in full compliance with the national and state interests of Uzbekistan with the influence and permission of the people's free national thought" our main law is the Constitution, the main goal of which is our main body, which determines human rights and interests.

The opinion of the ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle that "man is a social being" is of particular importance in terms of human rights. A person, as a social being, can make his essence inappropriate in the structure of society. Any right, including human rights, arises not from the biological essence of a person, but from the fact that his social essence is a member of a particular society. In a sentence we can say that human rights are the dignity of the individual. In particular, when it comes to human rights, the state policy in our country is aimed at developing and providing facilities for both legal entities and individuals to develop and analyze their legal consciousness, and the National Education Program in the field of human rights was approved in our republic by the decisions of the head of state Shavkat Miromonovich Mirziyoyev No. PQ-46 dated February 7, 2023. The issues of promotion, protection and observance of human rights in our country are one of the priorities of state policy. Important actions to improve education in the field of human rights are reflected. Including: in 2020-2024, the fourth stage of the world education program in the field of human rights is being implemented, aimed at expanding the rights and opportunities of young people through education in the field of human rights. Education in the field of human rights is important in promoting the respect of every citizen towards human rights and ensuring that it is respected in every possible way, being instrumental in preventing violence and conflict. On July 15, 2019, the Council of the Legislative Chamber of the OECD and the Senate of the OECD adopted a roadmap on the implementation of the national program of action on the implementation of the rules of the UN declaration on education and upbringing in the field of human rights and its implementation. In the specialty of human rights (legal sciences, sociology) with the aim of training highly qualified scientific and scientific pedagogical personnel in the field of human rights, as well as developing fundamental research in this direction after higher education, the institute was established. It should be noted that today the popularization of public bodies, civil society institutions, media, educational institutions among the population of the tamoils of universal values, respect and observance of human rights also arose the need to widely involve citizens in the process of ensuring their use in legal information.

Increasing the legal literacy of the population, especially young people, in the field of human rights on the shortcomings of each area prevents the formation of a sense of respect for Human Rights and freedoms in them, the increase in the knowledge and skills of civil servants in the field of human rights and gender equality. It should be noted that a number of laws on women's rights have been developed in our country. 2019-2- in September, laws were passed on the "right to guarantees of equal rights and opportunities for women and men" and on the protection of women from harassment and violence. This legislation helps to regulate relations in the field of protection of women from freshness and violence in marriage, workplaces, educational institutions and other places in one norm. Also in 2019, a "protection order" was introduced for women affected by violence. This order is a document that provides state protection for the affected women.

The "National Center" of the Republic of Uzbekistan for Human Rights, which operates in a harmonious way in the work carried out on ensuring human rights and freedoms in our country, provides a wide opportunity to carry out such noble works. In addition, today, in the cross-section of democratically different regions, "people's receptions" and the "presidential portal" of our respected president have made a significant contribution to finding a solution to the social problems of the population by electronically receiving popular appeals.

The above-mentioned National Center began its activities in the cross-section of the provinces "Fight Against Torture" international practice and training courses on the surface of national experience. Also, the head of the Department of education and education in the field of human rights of the National Center F. During the training sessions, Hayitboyev insisted that participants get acquainted with international practice and national experience in the field of combating human rights and legal grounds against torture. Indeed, in our country, similar centers are working in the protection of human rights and people, in the knowledge of their rights. But when we know our truthfulness, we should not be indifferent to the realization of our self. Zero as our first president said, "one should be afraid of a loqayt man, not an enemy." (Karimov. I.A. "high spirituality is an invincible force". T. "Spirituality" 2008.)
