

THE IMPORTANCE OF MIGRATION IN INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Alisher Mirkholdorov
Head of Department

Abstract:

This is in the article migration international in relations place and role analysis of today's migration in that day global color, the event received, as not only demographic and economic processes, but international policy and in security also directly shows. In the article labor migration, refugees problem, transnational diaspora and interstate cooperation point from the point of view of migration international in relations importance highlighted.

Keywords: Migration, international relations, refugees, labor, migration, political stability, transnational cooperation, global security

Introduction:

In the 21st century, a global face on the scale giving social, political and economic changes in the background migration humanity development an inseparable and complex event as a separate focus Migration, that is, the population one from area to another migration, historically there has been a process to be despite the current situation during the period of his/her area of application, the causes and consequences fundamentally change continues. Current in that day every year millions of people different to causes according to their own homeland leaving to, the other in the country is moving. This is a situation, of course, of international connections to the character and to the content directly influenced by the show. Globally, when considering migration, processes different in forms of manifestation will be: work migration, social or political refugee, environmental migration, study or qualifications increase for this purpose of migration and others. Each seems to migrate his/her own separate functions and to the consequences. The same at that time migration problem international political day so that an important place is occupied and developed and a developing country is also relevant for from problems to one turns.

With this together, migration positive and negative impacts are available. Positive From the point of view of work, he is a worker. power movement, knowledge and experience exchange, financial flows (remittances), cultural enrichment and international integration provides, negative from the outside and – illegal migration, human trade, social imbalances and in security threats to the surface Also migration acceptance actor in countries political contradictions, social tensions, xenophobia and immigrants relatively negative attitudes such as situations to strengthen are possible. International relations migration place and more and more are happening. Countries in the middle: migration, politics, coordination, labor, market, order to settle, diasporas, attraction, make refugees, show assistance and transnational security, provide regarding cooperation, connectivity is expanding. Therefore, in the article, migration processes, international processes in relations, their place, different in directions, influence and this processes, management, current problems, a deep analysis will be done.

Literature review

In particular, the British scholar Stephen Kass and Mark J. Miller wrote "The Age of Migration" work contemporary global migration processes in understanding an important source considered. The UN International Labour Organization (ILO) and the International Migration Organization (IOM) to the announcement made annual reports on migration trends, policy approaches and international cooperation in line with current information [2][3]. The concept of the theory of migration, headed separately by the attention worthy. It is in the approach of migration micro and macro causes in-depth analysis done [4].

In Uzbekistan and labor migration issues, especially Russia and Kazakhstan directed external migration currents according to A.T. Khodjaev, I. Karimov, N. Turakulov such as local scientists to take visited scientific research [5][6] Also, Zygmunt Bauman's "Fluid Modernity" in his work migration the modern world of variability is the main of the indicators one as the interpretation of Bauman, migration personal and political freedom, security and personality with a related global problem as seen comes out [7].

Analysis and Results

International migration in relations, the importance of today is not only social and economic, perhaps political and security has also increased noticeably on the margins at the level. Global migration processes, especially labor migration, refugee flows, environmental migration and transnational diasporas through interstate relations directly impact. This analysis of migration international in relations its place, its social, political and economic consequences, as well as interstate cooperation and policies as a formation to study focused. Migration, social and economic processes in the fields are important to change. Labor migration, developing countries for an important currency source to be a service doing. For example, Uzbekistan. The annual money transfer revenue billions of dollars the organization will achieve. These means of the country for the economy noticeable at the level of influence shows that the population wedding level is increasing and the social infrastructure to develop help gives. From this, in addition to migration, economic growth and development for new opportunities creates. Labor migration through the acceptance of the country's worker power is provided, it and the working release efficiency increases and economic growth encourages. Also migration through knowledge and technology, the exchange made is increasing, it and innovative develop contribution is added.

Political and diplomatic effects

Political and diplomatic migration also plays an important role in relations. Countries migration policies information each other from experience uses, adds programs and transactions through cooperation develops. For example, Europe, the Union and African countries are in the middle of migration and progress in accordance with the cooperation reinforcement for this purpose of the various initiatives taken is increasing. Also migration policies are international organizations such as the UN, the International Labour Organization (ILO) and the International Migration International Organization for Migration (IOM) working issued regulatory documents based on the made increases. These organizations in the countries of migration policy man to the rights to respect with the increase made, labor migration order to plant and refugees assistance show in accordance with the instruction Migration security is also important in this field of problems brought releases. Illegal migration, human trafficking, terrorism and transnational crime such as international dangers pose a security threat. Countries this problem decision to make for border reinforcement, migration currents control do and international cooperation reinforcement measures also migration climate change and natural disasters with related respectively environmental also affects security does. Climate change as a result of natural disasters such as droughts, floods and earthquakes have come to the surface, people own from their homes obligatory to move accordingly forced to do. This environmental is called migration and the new security of the problem brought releases.

Transnational Diasporas and Their Role

Transnational diaspora migration plays an important role in the processes. They own to their compatriots financial assistance shows, cultural and social conservation, as well as political and economic contributions in the development of add through international connections to strengthen aid gives. For example, Uzbekistan borders Russia, Kazakhstan and another in the countries of the diaspora of the country external in politics and economic in the development of an important factor of migration processes human rights with close. It depends. Migration rights that include safe and legal migration, asylum take the law, labor rights and social protection such as international law issues are an important part of the organization will achieve. Countries have this right to provide for national laws international to standards coordination, migration policy man to rights to respect with done increase measures sees.

Conclusion

The international connections in the migration system today on that day are a lot of trimming and complex process as a manifestation. This is happening. Those countries between economic, political and cultural to relations directly shows. Migration due to the worker's power movement is increasing, transnational economic connectivity is expanding, diasporas through social networks are taking shape and intercultural communication is developing. With this together, illegal migration, human trafficking, refugees problem and social in integration difficulties such as negative there are also consequences they are international in politics important of the problems to one became. Migration processes effective governance for a country is not only national to that extent, can be international cooperation based on approaches working out In this regard, organizations such as the UN, ILO, IOM organizations to recommendations to do action also human rights protection do policy-based to carry out important importance of the profession Conclusion as In other words, migration is the current global challenges and opportunities crossed point It is considered International. Connections deepening, economic stability provide and social progress contribution add for the right management need was a strategic process. Uzbekistan such as developing countries for and migration abroad citizens with connections strengthening, economic resources attraction to grow and international in the field instead of reinforcement tool as considered.

REFERENCES:

1. Castles, S & Miller, MJ (2009). The Age of Migration: International Population Movements in the Modern World. Palgrave Macmillan.
2. International Labour Organization (ILO). Global employment and social prospects – trends. (2023).
3. International Organization for Migration (IOM). World Migration Report 2022.
4. Massey, D. S. et al. (1993). Theories of International Migration: Review and Evaluation. Population and Development Survey, 19(3), 431–466.
5. Khodjaev, A.T. (2018). Uzbekistan: External Migration of the Socio-Economic Base. Tashkent: Uzbekistan Science Academy Publishing House .
6. Karimov, I. (2020). Labor, Migration and Its/Her Social Impact: Uzbekistan Experience. Tashkent : Ekonomika izdatelstvo .
7. Bauman, Z. (2000). Fluid modernity. Polity Press.